WHAT IS AMPED NOx?

AMPED NOx is a pre-workout shot containing a special blend of fruit and vegetable extracts to help boost performance, increase power output, optimise muscle efficiency and reduce fatigue.

HOW IT WORKS:

Taken before a workout, AMPED NOx contains fruit and vegetable extracts designed to support nitric oxide production and support blood flow for delivery of oxygen to cells.

NITRIC OXIDE IN ACTION:

Nitric oxide helps blood vessels function normally during exercise. This increases delivery of vital nutrients and oxygen to working muscles and helps delay fatigue. The result of proper nitric oxide production is enhanced muscle efficiency so you can train harder for longer.

Perfect for:

- Athletes
- Adults 18+ looking to improve performance and stamina during high-intensity exercise
